Text of the Treaty Published-Bills Commencement of Work Expected to Pass Both

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Hay-Pauncefote substitute for the Clayton-Bulwer treaty came before the Senate today, but merely in the form of a motion to remove the seal of secrecy from it. The motion was agreed to without The motion was agreed to without discussion. This failure on the part of Senators to say anything about its provisions does not imply that the opposition which developed yesterday among friends of the Nicaragua Canal has abated in the least. Indeed, it is apparently growing stronger among men who were counted on as advoates of the canal scheme.

It is due principally to provisions orbidding the United States to fortify the proposed waterway and preventing this government from controlling it exclusively. Statements made in the Senate yesterday by Senators' Hoar, Platt of Connecticut and Hawley in criticism of the neutralization articles criticism of the neutralization articles represent fairly the opinion of triends of the canal bills, who are finding fault that the come serious, and this is realized by the administration and those Senators who want the Morgan or Hepburn Canal Bill to pass under any circumstances. It is becoming evident that the treaty will not get through the Senate with the "no fortifications" clause in it. One prominent Republican senator who has been an ardent advocate of the canal scheme, and who vocate of the canal scheme, and who said yesterday that he could not see what ground there was for the objec-tions of Hoar, Platt and Hawley, admitted today that he was not pleased with the provisions forbidding the United States to fortify the approaches of the canal and to prevent its use by an enemy of this country in time of

ANTI-ALLIANCE SENATORS. BRING FORTH AN AMENDMENT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—A special to the Journal and Advertiser from Washington says that at a hurriedly called meeting of the various Senators tonight (Monday.) it was determined to oppose the ratification of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty as it applies to the Nicaraguan Canal, which was abrogated on Saturday. The leaders in the opposition are Senators Platt. and Hawley of Connecticut; Mason of Illinois, and several others.

The treaty is regarded, in effect, by some of the most conservative Senators on both sides, as an offensive and defensive alliance with Great Britain; defensive alliance with Great Britain; that it closely associates the two countries in the control of a purely American project; that under the provisions the United States abandons the right to defend its own property in return for the promise of assistance from Great Britain wherever assistance for the maintenance of the canal's neutrality shall be required.

It was a for-gone conclusion, after Burns's advice in his last caucus that the men who had been voting for him should vote for Mr. Bard, that the latter would receive their undivided support, yet something of hope continued to linger in the hearts of the Burns's touts, and something apprehension in the minds of those ou apprehension in the minds of those out-side the Legislature that the election of Mr. Bard might not occur today. There was an animated so es while nominating and se ing speeches were being made, and while the vote was being taken. The galleries and lobbies were filled, and ladleg seated within the rails were many and well attired. But there was no such suppressed excitement and evi-dent interest as was witnessed during the first two days of the Senatorial struggle of last session.

NOMINATING SPEECHES. NOMINATING SPEECHES.

Valentine (Bulla,) nominated Bard in the Assembly, and seconding speeches were made by Cobb (Burns.) Works (Grant.) Lardner (Barnes.) Belshaw (Bulla.) Clough (Barnes.) Dunlap (Scott.) Johnson (Burns.) Pierce (Burns.) and Melick (Bulla.) On the side of the Democrats, Mack nominated and Sullivan seconded Mayor James D. Phelan of San Francisco. The oratory was not of a very high order, but the best speakers were easily from the Burns forces Cobb of San Francisco, a refined and scholarly young attorney, and Grove L. Johnson evoked most enthusiasm and heartiest applause, but thusiasm and heartiest applause, but Valentine's speech appealed most to the southern members, as it seemed to bind that section and the chosen candidate more closely to the rest of California. and to the union.

Cobb startled the Assembly by his declaration, in naming the require-ments of a Senator, that incompetence would be as bad as the basest treach-ery, and a vacant chair would be bet-ter than an unworthy representative. He believed the choice of the Republi-cans was an honest, energetic and able man who would make an aggressive fight, who possesses every requisite to a marked degree, who needs no one to ouch for him, whom culture and re-inement fit like a garment, and who would be a credit to himself and to the

This session he has been one of the prime movers in securing recognition of Mr. Bard as the logical candidate, and to his untiring work the people of Ventura county owe much in the election of their distinguished fellow-citizen to the high office of United States Senator. Ventura county, which elects jointly with Santa Barbara county is entitled to a new State Senator in about a year, and Greenwell's chances in that connection are undoubtedly greatly enhanced.

Col. Surns was not in the city today, and therefore was not at the reception, but nearly all his followers as well as the Democratic legislators were present.

Al Geberding, who is also a business associate of Mr. Band and who accompanied him here, had general supervision of the reception tonight, which is pronounced by all to be eminently successful. California's new Senator is making many friends.

VALENTINE'S SPEECH. After the usual preliminaries in the ssembly, Mr. Valentine of Los An-Assembly, Mr. Valentine of Los Angeles nominated Mr. Bard, saying:

"Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the Assembly: During the whole of last sension of the Legislature several distinguished gentlemen, citizens of California, were supported loyally throughout the whole session by their supporters in joint convention, voting for them as candidates for the United States Senate. That they were entitled to the confidence, not only of their supporters, but of the people of the State of California, is manifest by the loyalty of those who stood by them to the last, and it is fortunate for this grea. State of ours, magnificent as she is, with all her resources, to have so many who can so well and ably represent her in the higher branches of the legislative halls in Washington.

"The Governor of the State, seeing the secessity of full representation in Congressional halls, has placed as foremost in his proclamation calling us together in this extra session, the election of a United States Senator, and I think none of you will deny that that is the question paramount in the State of California today.

"Stuated on this western coast of the sountry, we will be the first to receive the advantage of expansion, taking in, thus, as we have, the islands of the Orient and over which Old Glory will wave forever; taking in, as we have, the islands midway in the Pacific the Hawaiian Islands—all of these heafts will first come to the door of California. "When we come to the question of whe shall be the Senator to represent us and act as the colleague of the Hon.

time. We have a man coming not particularly from the south, not from the

"Thomas R. Orr of Ventura and ex-Assemblyman D. T. Perkins, a close personal friend and business associate of Mr. Bard, came up from Ventura especially to be present at the election in the Legislature, and to attend the reception. An old-time friend present was Judge Jarrett T. Richards of Santa Barbara, which county is also represented by Serator John J. Boyce, whose friendly relations with Mr. Bard are of many years standing.

The Union League Club of San Francisco sent George H. Pippy and Joseph S. Spear' Jr., as a committee to invite the Senator-elect to a reception by the One of the happiest men in the whole gathering tonight was Assemblyman Charles B. Greenwell, who, with Sena-

SECONDING SPEECHES.

SECONDING SPEECHES.

Then followed many seconding speeches, representative of those candidates for the high office who had been unsuccessful, giving their views in the matter. These all referred to Mr. Bard as their second choice, but incisted that they regarded him as the best second choice that could have been made.

Assemblymen Cobb and Johnson speke as representatives of the Burns foces. Mr. Johnson said:

Mr. Speaker: At the regular session I voted for a gentleman for the office of United States Senator until its close for whom I have again voted at the present session, and would continue if I could. I have no regrets for my course. Had I to do it over again, I would voter for him as cheerfully in the future as I have in the past. His course during the entire time of the campaign has been such as to endear him to his friends, and to make his supporters feel at the conclusion of the campaign more loyal to him than they were at its commencement. His conduct at the close of the contest has stamped him as what he said he was—a true and loyal and consistent Republicah, having always the interests of the party, in preference to the interests of the ladvidual or the deportation at heart.

"We feel—speaking for myself, I feel—that his dignified silence, when assalled so wickedly as he has been fur fifteen months, when under that assault almost beyond human endurance daily made upon him, he retained the second of the candidation of the candidation his self-control that his equipoise of character, of purpose and of speech and action, under such circumstances stamped him as a man fit to receive the vote of every Republican of the State of California for any office to which he might aspire.

"The proceedings of the caucus of the Republican members of the Legislature are known to us all, and are known by the people. They resulted in a condition of things which some of us did not consider proper, and natural. If feel that there is imposed upon lature are known to us all, and are known by the people. They resulted in a condition of things which some of us did not consider proper, and naturally resented, but when we confronted the situation we felt that but two courses were before us—one to follow the example set by others at the regular session and to create what is known as a deadlock, in order to express our private feelings regarding the manner in which things had been carried on not to our satisfaction; and the other to perform our duty to the State, to the nation, to the party, regardless of our personal wrongs. We had before us the burning words of the Governor calling attention to our duty, and we remembered and heeded his eloquent call. Today, not regretting my action in the past, or abating one jot or tittle in my estimation of the ability of my candidate for the office, I shall vote for the interest of the Republican party that I love, and that, under God's guidance, is the vice regent to carry out His will in the affairs of man in this country for the interests of the State of California, that commonwealth which is our hope and our pride and our devotion, and to which we owe the interest of this great nation, whose work in behalf of freedom, the promotion of civilization and the rights of man is written gloriously upon the book of time forever and forever. Believing that my duty to the State and to the nation, is greater than my personal feelings. I shall vote for Thomas R. Bard for United States Senator."

Works of San Diego, as a former supporter and in a measure representative of U. S. Grant, Jr., said in his seconding speech:

"One year ago I had the honor to present to this Assembly the name of U. S. Grant for United States Senator."

Works of San Diego, as a former supporter and in a measure representa ernor that a Senator shall be elected, inspired by the flat of the people, has gone forth, and we are here for that purpose.

"We who voted for Mr. Grant at the regular session did so in the firm belief that he is the best man for the place to which he has aspired. In the intehest of that harmony which always characterizes the acts of good Republicans, we lay that feeling aside and vote for Thomas R. Bard.

"Electors are not always happy in the choice of compromise candidates. In the healing of wounds caused by such a contest as this, choice is often made of a man who is not up to the standard of excelence shown by those first prominently named for the position being contested for. That is not true here. No citizen of California can contend that the State will be anything but well represented in the United States by the man we are about to choose."

Assemblymen Lardner and Clough, who supported Gen. Barnes, described themselves as still admirers of the old war horse, but since a compromise had been necessary, it gave them great pleasure to be able to second the nomination of so thorough a Republican as is Mr. Bard.

Assemblyman Belshaw, a former Bulla man, made a neal little seconding speech, in which he said:

"Mr. Speaker: It is with great pleasure that I rise to second the nomination of Thomas R. Bard. The people of the State of California are to be congraturated on the happy termination of the State of California are to be congraturated on the happy termination of the State of California are to be congraturated on the happy termination of the State of California are to be congraturated on the happy termination of the State of California are to be congraturated on the happy termination of the State.

representative in the national Congress.

"While Mr. Bard is a resident of the southern portion of our State, nevertheless, he will be as much the Senator for the North as for the South, and I feel assured that he will not be influenced by any sectional feeling, but will take it upon himself to look after the interests of California."

Dunlap of Stockton, a former Scott man, Pierce, who had voted for Bulla, also made seconding speeches.

On behalf of the Democratic minority, Assemblyman Mack placed J. D. Phelan in nomination, which was seconded by E. D. Sullivan.

On Dibble's motion, nominations were then declared closed.

SPEECHES IN THE SENATE.

SPEECHES IN THE SENATE.

In the Senate, Mr. Bard was placed n nomination by Senator Rowell of In the Senate, Mr. Bard was placed in nomination by Senator Rowell of Fresno. The kindly gentleman, who represents the raisin belt, by his earnestness provoked more applause than did any of the others who spoke. Forcibly and to the point, in a few well-chosen words, he said:

"Mr. President: A little more than one year ago I had the pleasure of presenting to this body for its Senatorial suffrage the name of Thomas R. Bard. Today it gives me double pleasure to again present the same name for a like suffrage. Then it was the personal expression of long friendship and exalted admiration for the man, now it is an expression of the spontaneous sentiment of this body, and the spontaneous and hearty approval of the people of the State of California.

"At least for once in this history of our politics a great and generally coveted position has sought the man and not the man the position. There is little that need be said in behalf of the man whose name I offer. If mature years, a high order of intelligence, a life's honorable record, a comprehensive knowledge of men and affairs and a thorough appreciation of and faith in those principles of government which we believe have been conducive to the welfare of our country, are qualifications, then this body has found the man for United States Senator.

"But, Mr. President, there is more in this selection of a Senator than merely the selection of a well-qualified public servant or the expression of a rapidly growing sentiment throughout our land that politics in his country must and shall be conducted on higher planes.

"I bespeak for Mr. Bard if elected an honorable standing among the Senators of the nation, and I promise for him that he will represent California and Fresno. The kindly gentleman, of Mr. Barus messaid:

I do, in this body, the county of Ventura, I feel that there is imposed upon me a momentous duty as well as a grateful pleasure, in rendering tribute to an esteemed friend and in the name of Ventura and Santa Barbara coulds. I rise to second the nomination of Thomas R. Bard.

"Mr. Bard was born in Chambersburg, Franklin county, Pa., in the month of December, 1841. He is descended from that sturdy and virile race which has furnished to this country some of her noblest sons; a race which mingles in its current the blood of two of the peoples which have given energy and force to the British empire—the Scotch-Irish; the stock from which springs our noble President, william McKinley. The father of Thomas R. Bard was a distinguished lawyer, for a long time the leader of the Franklin-county bar. His son received an academic education in the Chambersburg Academy, whence he graduated at the head of his class at the age of 18 years.

was, at the early age of 21, placed at the head of the transportation department of the Cumberland Valley Railroad at Hagerstown.

"It was during these trying times that his unfolding character and worth attracted the attention of that skillful and accomplished captain of industry, Col. Thomas A. Scott, then acting as Assistant Secretary of War. His unerring judgment detected in young Bard the man to be entrusted with the control of great enterprises.

"At the early age of 24 he was chosen by Col. Scott to come to California to develop the petroleum industries on the Pacific Coast. Mr. Bard came to California, early in 1855 and shortly thereafter took sole charge of an investment involving a million of dollars, and a quarter of a million acres of land, situated in what is now Ventura, but then forming a part of Santa Barbara county in Southern California. Since that time Thomas R. Bard has been identified with every leading industry there; and the steady development of that county, and its fertile valley of Santa Clars of the south are chiefly due to his masterful mind.

"Without any inherited fortune, or other advantages than those which resulted from his natural capacity and energy. Mr. Bard has accumulated large wealth, by the development of natural resources, through his executive ability, untiring industry and sound business judgment.

"He has developed, in Ventura, and is now interested in Los Angeles, in a large oil production, controlled by the Union Oil Gompany; he is the president and director of banking interests in Ventura and Los Angeles, and conducts a large warehouse and shipping business, as well as immense farming and agricultural interests.

"Since his residence in this State he has been prominently identified with the party in his own locality, and has received recognition from the party of the State, being twice chosen as a delegate to the national convention, and as an elector in the eampaign of 1892, he had the distinguished honor of being the only Republican elector on his ticket to enter success of his party in every campaign.

"While these characteristics have made up his public career, his private character is the subject which those who know him best, must ever most sincerely admire.

"In every struggle with oppression, or injustice, he will be found on the side of right.

"In every struggle with oppression, or injustice, he will be found on the side of right.

"He is every inch a Senator, and when he represents this golden empire in that exalted body, which has been called 'an assembly of kings' at the capital of our nation, true Californians will have reason to be proud of the selection this day made by the Republican party of the State. He will exemplify the words of that wisest of men, "See'st thou a man, diligent in his business? He shall stand before kings; he shall not stand before mean men." "Southern California, the land of the orange and the vine, plights her troth in a cup of her fairest sunlight, and pledges to the mountains of the north and the bay and valleys of the center, that our State shall never have cause to regret that on this day you have chosen to represent her in the United States Senate, the Hon. Thomas R. Bard of Ventura."

SENATOR WOLFE'S SECOND. Senators Shortridge and Wolfe, who had formerly supported Mr. Burns were among those who seconded Mr. Bard's nomination. Senator Wolfe said: "Mr. President and Fellow Senators: Representing, in part upon the floor of this Senate the metropolis of the West, the great county and city of San Francisco, I arise to second the nomination of the Hon. Thomas R. Bard for the office of United States Senator. [Applause.]

nation of the Hon. Thomas R. Bard for the office of United States Senator. [Applause.]

"It is true, Mr. President and gentlemen, that I have stood upon this floor and upon the floor of the joint assembly, championing the cause of a friend of mine, and of other gentlemen, one who is just as dear to us today as he was then, but the battle is over and the struggle is ended, and Thomas R. Bard of Ventura is my candidate, just as he is yours. I can say to you truthfully and from the bottom of my heart, and in the spirit suggested by the eloquent Senator from Santa Barbara, (Boyce) that I feel that Thomas R. Bard will faithfully and well represent the great State of California upon the floor of the United States Senate. I believe him to be a mar of integrity, a man of honor and I know that he is a man of the people and I know that he will stand shoulder to shoulder with those other loyal Republicans upon the floor of the United States Senate, upholding the hands

States Senate, upon the moor of the United States Senate, upholding the hand of the administration, supporting the President, William McKinley, and adding new laurel to the record of which he can well be proud. I second the nomination of Thomas R. Bard, SHORTRIDGE'S SPEECH. Senator Shortridge said in part:

"The myriad-minded poet has furnished me a simile in speaking of adnisted me a simile in speaking of adversity which like the toad, ugly and venomous, wears still a precious jewel in its head. For, sir, out of this conflict of minds, this memorable battle for supremacy, has come out of the earth, happily, a jewel of acknowledged value in the person of the Hon. Thomas R. Bard for the United States Senate. While, in a personal sense, I may be regarded as a subject of defeat, yet triumphant, for my triumph comes in now being able to vote for a candidate who has not only the approval of this body, but of the people of California, and while knowing all the conditions, fully appreciating all that has been said, I yet would cast my vote were conditions otherwise, for the Hon. Daniel M. Burns. But as I find myself surrounded by present conditions, I anpurce, sir, with my entire approval, y vote for Mr. Bard."

Monday, February 5, from Koppies Dam:

"Gen. McDonald, with a bribade of infantry, a regiment of lancers and one battery, reached here from Modder River camp, in what is regarded as an important movement to the right of the Boer position at Magerstonein.

"Koppies Dam commands the roads from Kimberley to Hope Town and Douglass. Two Boer laagers, at Kamuliock and Griquatown, are within striking distance.

"The arrival of Gen. MacDonald's column was opportune, as it just prevented the two large commandos from effecting a junction. He now holds both banks of the river.

"Our lancers had two brushes with the Boer patrols. There is great activity among the enemy, and strong forces are concentrated to oppose our further advance. The troops suffered from heat and scarcity of water during the march."

The Consul quotes his figures from a recent report of the French Consul-General in the Transvaal on the resources of that country. He adds that it is probable several times this sum was imported in arms, of which no account was taken.

GRIM REALITY OF THE FORTUNES OF WAR.

BRITISHERS FIND OUT HOW IT FEELS TO BE DEFEATED.

Terrible Experiences of Gatacre's Weary Soldiers at the Battle of erg-Men Fired Their Guns Stormberg-Men Fired Their Guns and Fell Asleep from Sheer Exhaustion on the Battlefield.

LONION, Feb. 6.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Extended accounts of the British reverses at Stormberg, Magersfontein and Colenso are coming in by mall from war correspondents. From those realistic impressions may be gained if what defeat really means.
"I have seen in my life," writes the hopeless exhaustion of the unhappy soldiers was terrible to see." His description of Gen. Gatacre's reverse at this point is in part as folreverse at this point is in part as follows:

"The infantry had been at work or in the train in open trucks or marching since 4 a.m. on Sunday. The actual march occupied seven hours, and it is therefore little to be wondered at that the men were wholly incapable of making a supreme effort when at last they were surprised by receiving fire at short range while marchine in fours in fanced security. On receiving the enemy's fire, the companies at hand rushed against the kopies from which it proceeded and, advancing from bowlder to bowlder, swiftly commenced to ascend. Indeed, it is the fact that a considerable number actually reached within a few yards of the lower lines of 'skances' which could not, however, be reached without adders. At this juncture our own artillery, failling in the uncertain light to observe the ascent of the infantry, opened fire upon the enemy, and several shells falling short, dealt destruction among the assailants of the position. and several shells falling short, dear destruction among the assailants of the position.

"A par all retirement instantly ensued, and having been brought to a standstill, the attack gradually melied away until convinced that the case was hopeless, the general ordered the retire to be sounded. Had the order been promptly obeyed the troops might not improbably have been withdrawn without very serious loss, and a fresh attempt might have been successfully prosecuted. But it was not to be. Mahy men were loath to retire because they were anxious to go on while not a few were so utterly exhausted that they simply preferred to stay where they serious loss, and at the foot of the hills. Eventually over five hundred unwounded men were take prisoners. Steadily, as if on parade the retirement was executed by hose who responded to the order, the soldiers moving back at a steady page, without the least hurry cronfusion and halting constantly to fire.

"So far at I am aware no one among the assailants of the cape. It is realized that the fenciles moving blee autherities had taken

"Our 500 men afterward made prisoners, had failen into a trap from which they failed to extricate themselves. Consequently, when the rest of the force had been railled upon a defensive position in the rear, the general had not forces sufficient to warrant a fresh attempt upon a selected point of attack.

"In any case the men who had been by this time on the move for over twenty-four hours on the stretch, who had just completed seven hours of marching through the night, and who had been actually under arms for upwards of sixteen hours, were so dead beat that the severe hill fighting was quite beyond their powers. During the actual retirement from the hills attacked—or rather under which we were ourselves attacked in anticipation—men were falling asleep in the open ground, under fire after or before using their rifles. No sooner did they halt to fire than they fell forward sound asleep. An officer told me that he awoke several such men by kicking them soundly, and then insisted upon their continuing their retreat to a place of safety.

awoke several such men by kicking them soundly, and then insisted upon their continuing their retreat to a place of safety.

"The guns were at first in the same trap as the infantry, and were compelled to retreat some distance over very difficult ground before they could come into action, even then in a poor position with most inferior command. During this movement a gun was lost in consequence of being stuck fast, and the struggling horses were shot down by the enemy."

Describing the retreat from Stormberg to Molteno, another special correspondent at Sterkstrom writes:

"Then we had the humiliating experience of being chased back all those weary ten miles to Molteno, retreating as fast as we could in small groups, sometimes crouching against the right side of the road—the Boers being on our left flank—sometimes making our way into the cornfields or along the interminable yeldt, or now and again the right came hissing overhead, waiting with breathless suspense until we heard its duil thud as it struck the ground; then, with an exclamation of thank-fulness as we found the uncanny thing did not burst, up and off again, ravenously hungry and utterly fatigued as we were, harassed and hurried by the Boers, who accompanied us for a distance of eight miles with the attentions of their artillery. At last, when the Boers, who accompanied us for a distance of eight miles with the attentions of their artillery. At last, when the majority of our forces, which had left the night before, so full of promise and so brim full of eagerness, had struggled into Moiteno, about 11 o'clock, and when we all generally found our feet again, we formed up and got into line at roll call. When name after name was called, when silence, dead silence, was the only answer; when 366 men of the sturdy Northumberlands were missing, and when some 294 or gallant Irish comrades falled to give response, then the grim reality of the disaster came home to us, and we silently thanked God that we werease, ead, wounded and missing, left behind in the terr

WAR DISCUSSED AT OTTAWA. (A. P. DAY REPORT.)
OTTAWA, (Ont.,) Feb. 6.—The Transvaal war was discussed in the House of Commons last night. The position of the government was announced by F. J. Fould, who moved the address in reply to the speech from the throne in regard to the pay of the contingents, which is the bone of contention be-tween the two political parties. The government proposes to pay all the expenses of the Canadian soldiers to expenses of the Canadian soldiers to Cape Town, there to be merged into the battalions of the empire and to be paid for by Great Britain. In addi-tion to the pay given by Great Britain. Canada will make it up to what would be paid if the Canadian soldiers had been serving at home. This extra amount will be kept in a fund for the return of the men or given out to their families.

Sir Charles Tupper insisted on paying the full sum to Great Britain, while the Canadians were in the field. Sir Wilfred Laurier spoke of the justice of the war and supported the view taken by the government for forwarding assistance. He did not want to be more imperial than the imperialists and said the sending of the contingents offered no precedent which though with all necessary precaution for the public safety. This matter is to be under the direction of Gen. Dan Lindsay of Frankfort.

Seventh—That the Republican officials and officers of the State Guard shall have immunity from charges of treason, usurpation, courtmartial or any other such offenses.

The agreement was signed by the following: Republicans—John Marshall, Judge John W. Barr, Gen. Dan Lindsay, T. L. Edelin, Dr. T. H. Banter, David W. Fairleigh, C. T. Ballard, Democrats—J. C. S. Blackburn, J. C. W. Beckham, Sam J. Shackelford, Urey Woodson, James B. McCreary, Phil Thompson, Robert J. Breckinridge.

The agreement in full was not given out last night, as it was desired first.

Thompson, Robert J. Breckinridge. The agreement in full was not given out last night, as it was desired first to submit it to Gov. Taylor for his signature. It was stated by the Republicans present that Gov. Taylor would agree to anything that all of them signed. It was stated in the conference that the London session of the General Assembly would be called off at once.

The conference began at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and lasted until 2:30 o'clock this morning, when a typewriter was sent for, and the agreement was prepared and signed.

Until Monday, while the situation is in status quo, Gov. Taylor will remain in possession of the executive buildings while the Republicans will recognize him and the Democrats will recognize Gov. Beckham as Governor.

After the conference, Gov. Beckham at once took a train for Frankfort. Senator Blackburn and ex-Gov. McCreary remained in Louisville during the night.

Senator Blackburn and ex-Gov. Mc-Creary remained in Louisville during the night.

The course of events in the imme-diate future depends largely upon Gov. Taylor. An important feature in shap-ing the Republican policy has been, no doubt, the lack of support from the na-tional administration for the course pursued by Gov. Taylor since he as-sumed office.

TAYLOR DELIBERATING.

FRANKFORT (Ky.,) Feb. 6.—The news of the agreement reached last night at Louisville was received with gratification in Frankfort. great, and any lessening of the tension was most welcome to the members of both parties. Not a single member of the Legislature, Democratic or Repub-lican, is in the city, and none is ex-pected before late in the afternoon or ilican, is in the city, and none is expected before late in the afternoon or tomorrow.

Gov. Taylor refused to discuss the agreement until it has been brought to him. He said it would be neither right nor courteous for him to do so. He, however, made the assertion that if the Goebel law is repealed and an election law given to the people of Kentucky which will insure a fair and honest count of the votes as cast, he will allow no personal ambition of his own to stand in the way of a peaceful adjustment of the troubles.

Judge Yost and Mr. Sweeney, the Republican attorneys, arrived from Louisville at 10:30 o'clock, Gen. Dan Lindsay of Louisville being with them. They had the agreement and carried it at once to Gov. Taylor's office, and the door was locked upon all outsiders. It was generally believed that Gov. Taylor-will accept the agreement.

At 11:30 o'clock Gov. Taylor said he would make no public statement regarding his attitude toward the resolution of the Louisville conference until tomorrow. "A legal proposition has been submitted to me," he said, "and I wish time to consider it. I shall have nothing to say before tomorrow. It is posible that I may reach a conclusion lave this afternoon, but it is doubtful if I do so. I wish to_consult with my lawyers at some length before saying anything or taking any action."

Gov. Taylor has refused, for the time being at least, to sign the agreement reached last night in Louisville. He was closeted for a long time this morning with Gen. Dan Lindsay, T. L. Edelen and T. H. Baker of Louisville, and windle them know when he had reached a decision.

Mr. Baker, after leaving the conference, was asked his opinion of the cision.

Mr. Baker, after leaving the conference, was asked his opinion of the probable result, and replied: "I hope and believe that everything will be settled peaceably. The others expressed similar opinions, although all of them jatated that they were given personal opinions and not speaking in any sense for Gov. Taylor."

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)

FRANKFORT (Ky.,) Feb. 6.—A long conference was held in the office of Gov. Taylor tonight. The conference was secret and none of those engaged in it would consent to talk. They allowed it to be tacitly understood, however, that the position of Gov. Taylor was the same as that stated in the early morning to the Associated Presenthat if a fair and honest election law was given to the State he would not allow any personal ambition of his own to remain in the way of a settlement.

SENATOR CLARK'S WITNESSES GIVE THEIR SIDE.

ACCUSED SAID TO HAVE BEEN CON-SPIRED AGAINST.

Marcus Daly's Operations in His Fight Against the Millionaire Gone Objectionable Bickford Letter Read After Much Wrangling Among Attorneys-Day's Testimony.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.] WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The controversy over the election of Senator Clark of Montana before the Senate Committee on Elections began today with an-other wrangle between attorneys on the respective sides over the letter inter-cepted in Mr. Campbell's office, while it was being carried from Mr. Bick-ford's office by Ben Hill. Campbell pre-sented the letter, asking as he did so that it be returned, as it might be important to have it in a suit in Mon-To this request Mr. Foster took exception saying that as the letter was not the property of the prosecution they had no right to its return. This brought Senator Edmunds to his feet with the declaration that the defense could only get the letter by a process of law, "With which," he said, "we will be glad to accommodate them in Montana or elsewhere," Chairman Chandler cut the controversy short by announcing that he had the letter in his possession and would himself hold it for the present. The letter was read. It was on paper containing the card of Walter M. Bickford, and is as follows:

"BUTTE (Mont.) Aug. 13, 1899.
"My Dear Root: I have had a talk with Mr. War this morning and with Mr. Falk. When you next see Falk find out from him what his expenses would be and ask him about McIntyre as a lawyer. Perhaps the expense money was thought too little.
"Yours,"

as a lawyer. Perhaps the expense money was thought too little. "Yours, [Signed] "W. M. B." The envelope was addressed "Jesse B. Root. Politeness Mr. Hill."

The first witness of the day was State Senator Philips of Chateau county, Mont. (Rep.,) who had voted for Mr. Clark. He said he had known Mr. Clark for thirty years and that in a talk with him he had told him that if the Republicans voted for a Democrat for the Senate the Democrat must be a protectionist. Mr. Clark had then announced himself as in favor of a tariff on lead, wool and other raw material and as an expansionist, and had agreed on lead, wool and other raw material and as an expansionist, and had agreed to write a letter defining his position. This letter, the witness said, was written, but he was not able to produce it. Mr. Philips admitted having talked with State Senator McKay at the Republican legislative caucus and concerning Mr. Clark's candidacy, but denied that he had told that gentleman that he could get $15,000 for a vote for Clark, and of having told him that Representative Ingersol was to get $10,000 for his vote.

Clark, and of having told him that Representative Ingersol was to get $10,.000 for his vote.

State Senator Cullen (Dem.) from Dawson county, who had voted for Clark, contradicted flatly the testimony of Mr. Whiteside to the effect that he was to have received $15,000 for his vote for Clark, saying that it had not been offered nor had he received any consideration for his vote. Cullen is a railroad conductor on the Northern Pacific, and he referred to a conversation he had with Marcus Daly on the train in December, prior to the meeting of the Legislature. He said that Daly had brought up the subject of the contest for the United States Senate, asking him what he thought of the outlook. Witness said he had replied that he thought Clark would be elected. To this, he said, Mr. Daly had replied: "I will tell you that every man who votes for Clark will be published as a boodler and bribe taker. If you fellows elect Clark I'll see that he never takes his seat in the Senate."

He had not voted for Mr. Clark on the first three or four ballots because of the Whiteside exposure, but had been assured by Clark in a conversation that the exposure was the result of a conspiracy, and that the money was not his. He had intended, when elected, to vote for him, and then, after making further investigations, decided was not his. He had intended, when lelected, to yote for him, and then after making further investigations, decided to give him his vote as he had originally intended.

On cross-examination Culien said that his family had spent the winter in California on account of ill health, but third; time 1:34%.

American Revolution at the unveiling of the statue of Lafayette at the exposition at Paris was passed.

Mr. Caffery resumed his speech on the control of the matter.

Mr. Foster stated that in the interest of Mr. Clark he would announce the desire of the defense to prove, as they could, by both Falk and his wife, that Whiteside had offered a bribe of $1000 to be allowed to tamper with the returns. The question was excluded under the former ruling.

RODLEY WILL CASE. TESTIMONY-TAKING CONCLUDED

OROVILLE, Feb. 6.—The Rodley trial dence was concerned. This morning Mrs. Minnie Fowles, formerly Mrs. Cal Hogan of Biggs, was placed on the stand. She had come from San Be-nito county to testify. She swore that Dr. Rodley did not visit her in Biggs, February 16, 1897, nor at any other time in that town. The doctor had stated most positively that when he went to Biggs to get Capt. Batchelder to sign the will as testified to by Batchelder, he went to see Mrs. Hogan. He fixed the date well and was released.

Mrs. Batchelder stated that she was not with him, heard no conversation between the two men, and knew nothnot with him, heard no conversation between the two men, and knew nothing of the circumstances sworn to by Rodley that they met to see about Capt. Batchelder speaking in Chico. The defendants had shown that the date of their conference was February 17, and the probable meeting in Chico was to be called because Gov. Budd had issued a proclamation calling for February 21 to be set apart as a day of mourning for the victims of the Maine. The proclamation itself was produced in court and it was seen no such proclamation had been issued until February 18. Mrs. Rodley was placed upon the stand and stated that Sheriff Wilson of Butte county had made improper proposals to her in his private office.

HOLTICULTURAL COMMISSION.

The January expenses of the Horticultural Commission amounted to $446-35, of which $262 applied to the salaries of the commissioners and $146 to the inspectors' salaries. The month was a busy one. All the deciduous orchards of the county were inspected, this teing the season when spraying should be done. On account of over two years of drought, little nursery stock has been raised in the country, necessitating large shipments from outside districts, all of which stock has been carefully inspected and the infested trees treated. Some San José stale has been found in the deciduous orchards. Nearly all the pear orchards are in a bad way from fire bight. This is a disease, for which there seems to be no remedy. The asticultural department has none to suspest, further than the cutting away of all infested parts, which is impracticable, for in nearly all bad cases, the body, as well as the limbs of the tree, is affected. The disease is making its appearance on the apple trees, but does not seem to be as severe on them as on the pear.

"I do not believe Senator Caffery proposes to filibuster against the bill when it is taken up. He desires to present objections to the proposed bill, and I think will content himself by explaining his position to the Senate, after which a vote will be taken. I have no fear as to the result, as the Senate has twice passed a similar bill, and the bill is perfectly well understood by all of the intelligent people of the United States."

Senator Aldrich, chairman of the Finance Committee, says there is no doubt as to the passage of the Canal Bill.

the Secretary of War is authorized to enter into contracts for its completion to the amount of $140,000,000, the money to be provided in regular annual appropriation bills as it shall be needed. There is no reason to expect any serious efforts to delay the bill in either house of Congress. Its opponents are so few as to make such efforts hopeless, and the prospects are that a vote will be reached in both houses after short debates. When Mr. Reed was Speaker he was able to prevent consideration of the bill in the House, but Speaker Henderson is heartily in favor of it, and will aid in expediting action.

speaker Henderson is heartily in favor of it, and will aid in expediting action.

Chairman Hepburn's present plan is to try to secure consideration of the bill by unanimous consent. Speaker Henderson has intimated to him that this can probably be secured. If there is objection to consideration by any of the opponents of the measure. Mr. Hepburn will then apply to the Committee on Rules for a special order, and he has no doubt of its being granted, as all the members of the committee are in favor off the bill. In the Senate the financial bill will have the right of way until February 15, but after that has been acted upon Senator Morgan intends to call up the Canal Bill and push it to a speedy vote. There will be some opposition from Senators who think it would be wise to wait for the report of the Walker commission, but few members will oppose the bill in its present form. Senator Morgan is confident the Canal Bill will pass Congress at the present session. He has assurances that a large majority of representatives favor the passage of the bill without further delay. In the Senate some of the friends of the bill are impatient to have it taken up and passed some morning during the morning hour. The only substantial opposition comes from Senator Caffery of Louisians, who will probably insits on debating the subject at length.

"Friends of the bill," Senator Morgan said, "are satisfied the American people fully understand the provisions of the measure and recognize the importance of prompt action. Under the circumstances its advocates will not waste time in discussion. So strong is the sentiment in the Senate favorable to the bill that it could be taken up tomorrow and passed with not more than five or six votes against it. There is a general understanding, however, that it shall not antagonize the Financial Bill, now pending, and therefore I probably shall not call up the Canal Bill until the Financial Bill is disposed of. The latter measure is to be voted on one week from next Thursday.

"I do not believe Senator Caffery proposes to filibuster against the bill ing presented by the Clayton-Bulwe treaty. There has not been the slight est disposition to ignore the govern-ments of our sister republics in the matter, but in the view of the department it would not have been dignified or safe to make overtures to them be-fore the United States had acquired the power to deal with a free hand with the canal problem so far as Great Britain was concerned. HARD CONTRACT PUT UP BY FRUIT JOBBERS.

CALIFORNIA PRODUCERS WILL BE ASKED TO SIGN.

Opposition is Expected, but in Case of Rejection a Modified Version Will Probably Be Tried-Document Covers the Questions of Terms, Arbitration, Carloads and Quality.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The contract which whole-ale grocers and dried-fruit jobbers of New York are going to ask California producers to sign is liable to create op position among the latter. Producers are to be asked to agree to it, and if are to be asked to agree to it, and if they reject it there will probably be an effort to force it, or a modified ver-sion of it, on them. The text of the con-tract is as follows: Terms—F.o.b. cars at common ship-ping points in California, seller to make draft at sight with bill of lading attached, less 1½ per cent discount

Terms—F.O. Cars at common shipping points in California, seller to make draft at sight with bill of lading attached, less 1½ per cent. discount., draft to be made payable upon arrival and examination of goods. Examination to be made and report to be made thereon by buyers to sellers or their representatives within five days from presentation of first notice or arrival, record of transportation company presenting such notice to constitute date of delivery of such notice.

Arbitration—Ail differences arising under this contract respecting shipment, quality and all other questions, if not settled by mutual arrangement, shall be adjusted by arbitration in New York City, one member of the Board of Arbitration to be appointed by the Wholesale Grocers' Association of New York City and vicinity, to represent the buyer, and one arbitrator to be selected by the seller to represent the said seller. In case these arbitrators fall to agree, they shall submit the matter to a third disinterested party, whose decision shall be final; either interest against whom decision is rendered to adjust and settle obligation promptly. Arbitrators to be paid $5 each by party against whom decision is rendered.

Shipments—All merchandise affected by this contract to be shipped as may be ordered by buyers, provided that such shipment is ordered via one of the regular transcontinental routes.

Carloads—Unless expressly stipulated otherwise in this contract, a carload of dried fruits, raisins and prunes is to consist of 500 fifty-pound boxes, or if shipped in other packages, not less than 20,000 pounds, nor more than 22,000 pounds gross weight; nuts not less than 20,000 pounds, nor more than 22,000 pounds gross weight; nuts not less than 20,000 pounds, nor more than 22,000 pounds, subject, however, to such changes as may hereafter be made by transcontinental lines.

Quality—If quality of merchandise are not sendered is not in accordance with con-loss, said loss to be paid promptly by sellers; but it is clearly understood that if difference in quality does not, in the opinion of arbitrators, exceed 5 per cent. of purchase price, buyer is to accept goods and pay for same less such an amount as arbitrators may award him for such difference in quality. Destruction of, packing-house by fire, explosion or other accidental and material cause, if during packing season, or so soon before that it is impossible for packer to rebuild, cancels this contract.

He says: "I counted twenty-three men at the tables and in the hotel office I took the trouble to interview them and was surprised to learn that nine of the twenty-three made practice of taking one or two of Stuart Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal

One of them told me he had suffered so much with stomach trouble that at one time he had been obliged to quit the road, but since using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets had been entirely free from indigestion, but he continued their use especially while traveling, on account of irregularity in meals and because like all traveling men he was often obliged to eat wha he could get and not always what he wanted. Another, who looked the picture of health said he never ate a meal without taking a Stuart Tablet afterward because he could eas what he pleased and when he pleased, without fear of a sleepless night or any other trouble.

Still another used them because he was sub-ject to gas on stomach, causing pressure of heart and lungs, shortness of breath and dis-tress in chest, which he no longer experienced

Oil Shares Advance 100 per cent.

The subscription to Old Glory Oil Stock during the past week has been much greater than anticipated. Sufficient funds are now on hand to purchase the second rig. The first rig is on the ground and will be boring this week.

40 Acres at Coalinga

Near the Famous Chanslor and Canfield Properties

Have just been added to the Old Glory Co. This, together with their 320 acres in the Panoche tract makes their holdings second to none and superior to many. With property right in the center of the present excitement-property that has been experted thoroughly and pronounced positively oil bearing-with wells virtually surrounding it on all sides, investors take but very little risk.

This is a popular price stock and being sold on an equitable basis, to cents for a share, par value $1 is certainly a ground floor proposition. Now that another rig is to be purchased and forty acres at Coalinga have been acquired, the stock is to be advanced

An advance tariff sheet is out greatly modifying freight rates on goods from Colorado to the Pacific Coast. It provides that the rates from all Missouri River common points shall apply as the maximum rate on all freight from all Colorado common points, to Pacific Coast common points, excepting where noted in the sheet. In these exceptions are several important new rates. Onions are 75 cents; packing-house products, $1.40; aifalfa seed, $1.00; bran, 50 cents; flour, 75 cents; oats, 65 cents; potatoes, 75 cents; wheat, 62 cents. Logan is most grateful to us. We know that you were not surprised that his son had led the charge, but like us, are appelled at his untimely death, when he was within reach of a glorious victory over the enemies of his country, and can realize that we can hardly appreciate the imperishable glory that he has won at the sacrifice of his own promising life. The stock of oil on hand in the Los Angeles district is estimated to have increased about 15,000 barrels for the month of January. This does not necessarily mean that the production was increased that much, although it is known to have increased some. This estimate is made by Mr. Henderson of the Santa Fé Railroad. Edward Strasburg, secretary and superintendent of the Oil Storage and Transportation Company places it at about 12,000 barrels. Speaking of the present oil production of Southern California, Mr. Strasburg says: "I do not think the present production of oil south of the Tehachepi will reach 200,000 barrels per month. A liberal estimate of the different oil producing sections of Southern California would be about as follows: Los Angeles 3500 barrels a the different oil producing sections of Southern California would be about as follows: Los Angeles 3500 barrels a day, or 105,000 a month; Fullerton 15,-000 barrels a month; Wittler not to exceed 15,000; Fuente not more than 10,000, and Ventura and Santa Barbara counties about 50,000. I believe these are outside figures, and sensational rumors of tremendous production which is not justified by the facts can only do the industry more harm than good."

The Oceanic Company which has been drilling just a week has its first well down about 320 feet on the property at the corner of Ocean View and Coronado street.

The Wilson Oil Company is now pumping from well No. 9.

The Home Oil Company is erecting a 1000-barrel tank at Whittier.

Pumping began yesterday from the Uncle Sam Company's No. 6 well.

The Bakersfield Californian reports that the flow of gas is so strong in the McKittrick well as to seriously interfere with the workings. The drill is thought to be very near the big oil stratum which was found by the Kern river people.

Henry George is held responsible for the presence of the great works. When he was a candidate for Mayor of New York it was feared that serious labor troubles would result, and some of the manufacturers began to pack up their traps and get out of the city. As it happened, he was not elected, and might not have caused a revolution had he been; but the Edison Company was frightened, and had begun to cast about for a new shop. It was then doing business in a side street in Manhattan. One day a clerk, in riding through Schenectady on a train, noticed a large space between the railroad tracks and the canal, containing a couple of old buildings that had been put up for factories, but never occupied. He reported at home on the desirability of the situation, and the place was bought at once. That was only thirteen years

All the searchlights for the United States navy are made here, as well as some for other navies, and this is a branch of the business in which care is required, for on ship board all devices for controlling lights have to be confined in water-tight boxes. There is at present a lieutenant of our navy and one of the Russian navy residing near the works for the purpose of overseeing and testing the lights. A white target has been erected on a hillside 6000 yards away, and the lens and mirror must be so accurately adjusted that the target can be picked up at night when the light is aimed in conformity with certain usances. And the glass coverings in front must not be too loose nor too tight, for in the one case they would admit water, while in the other the heat generated by the arc light inside would break the casing; hence the glass has to be put in somewhat loosely in strips. The beam of the searchlight has been seen, it is said, a hundred miles when thrown from high mountains, but it is more officially declared that the longest range thus tar is from Milwaukee to Chicago, a distance of eighty miles. Thirty-inch lights at sea have made signals that were read twenty miles away. And not only are ships nowadays provided with electric lights, but with electric blowers, boat hoists, ammunition hoists, winches and the like, while the Kentucky and Kearsarge operate their turrets by electricity.

The mechanics make free use of the books and it is asserted that they often call for technical works. Their growing soms, however, do not make as much use of the books on physics, magnetism and electricity as their fathers do, but the indisposition of children to follow in the footsteps of their parents and the as common indisposition of parents to have them do so, are accountable for this presumably. The librarians report that the behavior of the mechanic is always good; that they are careful of the books they borrow; that they never appear at the library intoxicated or appear at the library intoxicated or appear at the library intoxicated or appear at the same is told at the works themselves. The girls employed there are kept by themselves, encountering the men only in going to and from the shops, and their treatment by the men is almost invariably respect, and a good many of the employes are church members.

Some of the men have thriftily bought stock in the company and naturally there is no discouragement of this practice. It affords all the greater incentive to a man to stick at his business, since there is a promise not energy of the officers a while ago and asked to be officers a while ago and asked to the officers a while ago and asked to the came out that a relative of his had died, leaving him several thousand dollars. ner.

Naturally, the unmarried men who do not live with relatives are boarders in various parts of the city, most of them within easy reach of the works, and they pay from $2.50 to $5.50 a week for board. Some of them rent rooms for $1 to $1.25 a week and live at restaurants. There are dining-rooms in the place that cater especially to younger clerks and mechanics, and that sell twenty-one meal tickets for $3. The men count on the sympathy and help of their employers in their social and charitable organizations, and whenever they get up a benefit or fair or entertainment it is the custom of the company to make donations and lend apparatus that will heighten their interest and increase the receipts. There was at one time an athletic field, with cinder path and tennis court on the grounds, but it was needed for new buildings and had to be covered. It was used to some extent, and some of the men are still interested in outdoot sports, but there is plenty of open ground near the town in which they can play ball or run races. There are many bleyclers, and in good weather no less than 1500 hands ride to and from their work. Sheds are put up for their wheels, and a special gate and path are provided, so that they can este the grounds without dismounting or encounternig trucks or wagons or cars. Several social clubs are maintained by the employes, and the local building and loan associations are composed chiefly of men in the electrical social.

The mutual benefit association, now sumbering 350 members, with 36000 in the bank, exacts a due of 50 cents a month and in return pays $5 a week for thirteen consecutive weeks in case of illness, provided the member does not indulge in the luxury of illness more than once a year. More unusual is an educational body called the General Electric Engineering Society, which is made up of ambitious men in the shops, who seriously wish to advance themselves in their calling, and who, to that end, read, study, experiment and discuss together, after hours, they have the advances on their own saines on the tables. The mechanics make free use of the books and it is asserted that they often call for technical works. Their growing sons, however, do not make as much use of the books on physics, magnetism and electricity as their fathers do, but the indisposition of children to follow in the fecities of their parents and the as tommon indisposition of parents to have them do so, are accountable for this, resumably. The librarians report that the behavior of the mechanic is always good; that they are careful of the books they borrow; that they never appear at the library intoxicated or assay, and the same is told at the works themselves. The girls employed have are kept by themselves, encounting the men only in going to and from the shops, and their treatment by the men is almost invariably respective. All the religions are represented, as a good many of the employes are thurch members.

Some of the men have thriftily bought tack in the company and naturally the solution of the solution of this practice. STANSILL'S BURGLAR.

Thomas A. Gorman was arraigned before Justice Morgan yesterday after-tion on the charge of burgiariously entering the residence of J. W. Stan-sil, No. 200 Boyle avenue. Gorman sil, No. 200 Boyle avenue. Gorman appressed a desire to have his preliminary examination at once, but the matter could not be taken up at that time and was continued until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. As soon as the formalities in the lower court have theen observed, he will probably enter a plea of guilty in the Superior Court, as, after passing a night in jail, he told Detective Hawley where he had disposed of the articles he had stolen. Monday afternoon, during the absence of Mr. Stansill, Gorman entered the residence, according to the com-

MYRA AND THE MEXICAN.

THE COURT DECIDES THAT SHE STOLE HIS MONEY.

Myra Wilson, a colored woman, and Joha Lynch, her white companion, who have been "doing the beat they could"
at the Buena Vista House on New High street, were tried before Justice Morgan yesterday forencon on charges of pette larceny.

Last Sunday Joaquin Fonts, a Mexican ranch hand, visited the woman, and when he left alleged that $15 had been stolen from his coat pocket. He complained to the police, and Officer Argiello arrested the defendants.

At the trial yesterday it was shown that Fonts was drunk when he visited the woman. He was rather hazy as to what happened in the room, as he went to sleep, and when he awoke the woman was gone. He insisted, however, that he had given the woman only $1, and that the balance of his money, about $15, which was in an inside coat pocket, tied up in a handkerchief, was stolen between the time of entering and leaving the room.

The woman denied going through the Mexican's pockets. She said he was druni, and gave her small sums of money four or five times while in her room. She finally became disgusted and left him asieep, afterward asking a colored boy who speaks Spanish to get the nan out of her room. The boy did so, and the Mexican then charged that she had stolen his money. The prosecution was unable to trace to the defendants the full amount alleged to have been stolen from the Mexican.
The efficers claimed that the woman had spent about $5.75 for groceries and room rent after the visit of Fonts, and a colored boy testified to having seen it in the possession of Lynch. The woman maintained that whatever money she had was given to her by the Mexica, but the fates were unkind to her and her white companion, as Justice
Morgan adjudged them both guilty.

They will be sentenced this morning at 9:36 o'clock.

of Honaker, Russell county, Va. "I had four dectors, and they said I could not be cured. I had ulceration of womb and female weakness so I could not stand on my feet but a short time; had bearing-down sensation, pain in the small of my back. My stomach and bowels, also legs and feet, would swell, and everything I ate hurt me. I could not sleep well, was so short of breath I could not indown at night; had soreness and tenderness over womb, troubled with papitation of heart, and suffered with headache all the time. I would get blind and have fainting spells, had dark rings around my eyes seemed bloodshot; suffered from painful mentrustion; could not lie on my left side. I would have numb spells, pains around my heart every morning, my lungs hurt me a great deal, and my shoulders, too. I would spit up blood at times, memory was poor, hearting was bad, hands and feet were cold all the time, and I had chills and night-sweats. After the doctors said I could not be cured I got hold of one of Dr. Pierce's Memorandum Books and read sbout how he had cured so many patients afflicted like I was, so I thought his medicline might help me. I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice, and he sent me a very encouraging letter in reply, advising me to take his 'Favorite Prescription' and Golden Medical Discovery' and his 'Pleasant Pellets.' I got two bottles and used these and felt much better. I sent and got six bottles more. After I had used four bottles I broke out all over in sores. I then quit taking the medicine and wrote to Dr. Pierce, and he advised me to still keep on taking his medicine. I did so, and soon found it to be a great medicine. I can now work all day and not feel tired at night. I can selec pall night and can eat anything I want at any time. I can walk and go anywhere I please. I feel better than I ever did. Can do all kinds of work in the house and outdoors, too. I am sorry I did not take Dr. Pierce's medicine when I first began to have poor health. I could have saved what I paid to humbugs. My friends any that I do n housand times for your good medicine and our kind advice. I used four bottles of the Golden Medical Discovery,' four of 'Favor-te Prescription' and two vials of your 'Pleas-

the Prescription' and two vials of your 'Pleasant Pelieta.' '
The cure of Mrs. Davis offers a fair example of what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done and is doing to make weak women strong This is not an exceptional case. In more than thirty years of practice Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invailds' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. T., has ireated and cured more than half a million women. Many of these had experienced years of suffering. They had spent large sums of money seeking a cure in vain. Doctors gave them up. Yet Dr. Pierce's treatment cured hem; miade them happy wives and joyful mothers.

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS. THE FUTURE SEAT OF FINAN-CIAL EMPIRE. It is evident from re-cent developments that the world's center of financial gravity is soon to shift to this side of the Atlantic, save the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The primacy which Amsterdam held from primacy when Amserdam head from the time, in 1609, when Spain virtually recognized, the independence of the Netherlands, along until a quarter of a century after the peace of Westphalia, in 1648, made that country the leading nation of the world, and which London has held since, is evidently soon to pass to New York. That city is second in point of population among the world's municipalities, London alone leading it, while it leads London in the amount of its wealth and in the extent of its business transactions. The a larger and larger extent hereafter the world must come to this side of the Atlantic for the money to float its great enterprises, as it already does to a steadily increasing degree for its locomotives, its steam and street cars, and for many other of the more important products of inventiveness and skill. The political triumphs which the country has been gaining in the past year or two will hasten this conquest. The country's geographical position, which gives it complete command of the time, in 1609, when Spain virtually The country's geographical position, which gives it complete command of the two great oceans, the certainty that it will ultimately comprise the whole of North America, its supremacy in wealth and mechanical skill growing influence among the powers, as shown by the universal acceptance of its open-door policy for China, Indicate that in New York Instead of In PRECIOUS METALS. Exports of silver during the past year to Japan, China and the Straits, says Bradstreet's, have been as follows: From London, $33,932,52; from San Franciseo, $5,963,543, a total of $39,886,795, as against a total of $32,622,032 in 1898 and $48,412,009 in 1897. During the past year Mexico produced $10,112,000 gold and $465,310,000 silver (values based on mistage basis.) as against $3,525,000 silver last year. The Mexican 1899 gold production is the largest output in the history of the nation. The world's production of gold is placed at $304,000,000. The most notable increases have been Australasia, $18,000,000. Epritish possessions of the Northwest, $5,000,000. United States of America, $6,000,000. ASTRONOMERS MEET.

NATURE OF COMETS.

The astronomical section of the Southern California Academy of Sciences held its monthly meeting last evening at the residence of J. D. Hooter, No. 225 West Adams street. W. H. Knight acted as chairman, owing to the indisposition of B. R. Baungardt. J. D. Wood of Riverside read papers on the "Hypothetical History of a Comet," and the "Comet of the August Meteors." A general discussion of the papers followed their reading.

In his hypothesis as to the formation of comets Mr. Wood went back to tion of comets Mr. Wood went back to the lime preceding the formation or the cosmic system, mentioning one of the mighty suns which had begun to throe its rays across the reaches of space wherein swayed clouds of gas and cold dust particles which later were to become world systems. In a volcapile burst of power this sun threw out from itself a mass of matter in a gasedus or nebulous condition. Heing freed from excess of gravity this mass soon was millions of miles distant.

Expanding by reason of the intense heat which it contained the mass of matter rushed away into space—a nebulous cloud.

Loss of heat and the solicitations of gravity as time went on led to condensations and a cometic body was formed. The quantity of matter was of no great amount, and in consequence the comet was hardly more compacted than a grave bed in which may be imbedded pebbles, stones and rocks. Later on solidity resulted in place. Most of the gases escaped from the cometic control, their particles having velocities too great for the coercion of gravitation, yet some portion had been shut in on the quick condepsation of stony or metallic parts.

After the constitution of the solar system with eight larger planets in established courses, the course of the comet became almost entirely shaped by our sun and came finally within a comparatively short distance of the
comparatively short distance of the carth, being disturbed in its motions by the pull of gravitation. In avoiding the earth by a matter of about 240,000 miles the comet barely escaped collision with the moon.
and as a result of lunar gravitation quite a mass of matter was pulled away from the main body, making two comets of smaller size. These are supposed to be the comets of the present day.

In the discussion which followed the querica arose as to whether comets comets of smaller size. These are supposed to be the comets of the present day.

In the discussion which followed the queries arose as to whether comets move in parabolic or in closed curves, and as to the origin of the cometic bodies whether or not they are portions of original nebulous matter.

As a dozen or more large comets have been observed in the century just closing, the hope was expressed that an opportunity soon would be afforded for observing another one of the heavenly bodies. It is hoped that something more definite may be learned then as to the origin, composition and habits of the celestial interrogation point.

The next meeting of the society will be held March 5, at which time Prof. J. H. Chamberlain of the Normal School will read a paper entitled "Earthquakes."

CHARGES AGAINST ROBERTS.

Mrs. J. Clayton, wife of the man who assaulted Earl Rogers, Esq., some months ago, presented a statement somewhat similar to the one filed with the de facto board, but it was signed with her maiden name. Teresa. Her charge is as folows:

"I reside the month of September 1309, I was obliged to go to Capt. W. C.! Roberts for a pass to the jail. On one of these visits, about September 23 or 24, I went into Capt. Roberts's office as usual to get a pass, a friend being with me. To my surprise he locked the door behind us and then he put his hands on my friend's shoulders and said something familiar. She replied, "Please take your hands off," and he did so. Another time when I called alone he came up to me, and took me by the arm and said I had nice fat arms and made several familiar remarks that were anything but pleasant to endure, but I was afraid to say anything to make him angry, as he could make re unpleasant for me in getting passes to see my husband.

"Finally I went again one afternoon with my friend to get a pass. When we went into Capt. Robertse office, he scaled to be face, and not fit for a lady to enter. Capt. Roberts again spoke and acted too familiar for a lady to enter. Capt. Roberts again spoke and acted too familiar for a lady to enter. Capt. Roberts again spoke and acted too familiar for a lady to enter. Capt. Roberts again spoke and acted too familiar for a lady to enter. Capt. Roberts again spoke and acted too familiar for a man in such a position, and that the such that the was powerless to do anything, as non care cared to make a public complaint against Capt. Roberts. The Chief then was powerless to do anything, as non cared to make a public complaint and thus save me the unpleasantness of going to Capt. Roberts. The Chief then was powerless to do anything, as non cared to make a public complaint and thus save me the unpleasantness of going to Capt. Roberts. The Chief then was powerless to do anything, as non care cared to make a public complaint and thus save me the

An entirely new charge, filed by Mrs. F. E. Evans, was read. It was as follows:

"I have read in the papers about the charges that have been made against Capt. W. C. Roberts, of the police force, and I decided that it was my duty to make a statement of the way he behaved toward me. Between two and three years ago I had occasion to go to the Police Station to get some information about my husband, who had left me. I went to Capt. Roberts's office to inquire for the Chief. When I went into the office I sat down, and Capt. Roberts shut the door and sat down too. Then he got up and grabbed hold of me, and tried to kiss me. I jumped away from him, and told him so mind his business and behave himself. He just laughed and said, 'Oh, I didn't mean anything by it.' I noticed that his breath smelt very strong of whisky. Not long afterward, I had to go to the station again, on the same business as before. Capt. Roberts again tried to kiss me "Before these things happened, I had met Capt. Roberts only two or three simes, and only when my husband was present. My husband introduced us in the first place. Frior to the occurrences I have related. I never had any conversation alone with Capt. Roberts. I was practically a stranger to Capt. Roberts of attempted assault, and with the reports of the former Chief, Mayor Eaton and police officers, it is apparent that the officer will have a great many questions to answer before the commission, it is probable that the trial, if it takes place, will consume some. time.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Sale of City Land.

Sale of City Land.

The city yesterday sold at public auction from the steps of the City Hall about five acres of land along the right of way of the Southern Pacific Railway Company above the Buena Vista-street bridge. The land is between the right of way of the company and the river, and the negotiations for the sale have been pending since last November. The Southern Pacific Company, at whose suggestion the land was offered for sale, was the sole bidder yesterday, the stipulated price of $5000 being offered and accepted. The money derived from this sale is to be used by the city in paying the extra expense incident to building an overhead crossing at the Los Feliz-road bridge. In the deed a reservation will be made by the city where the zanja madre will be allowed to run over the property. It is probable, however, that before long the city will have to pipe the stream, which at present runs in an open ditch.

Pipe Line Completed.

A conference between the attorneys for the city in the water litigation, the Mayor, the City Engineer and Engineer Lippincott was held at the offices of Lee & Scott yesterday afternoon. The case of the City vs. the Crystal Springs Land and Water Company will be argued on Friday afternoon before Judge York, and the time yesterday was consumed in going over the vital points in the case. The City Attorney feels confident that the city will win the suit.

WANTED TO PLEAD GUILTY TO BURGLARY CHARGE.

Ormos Bertalon States That He Was Under the Influence of Drugs When He Was Caught Attempting to Enter the Boathouse at East Side Park and Knows Nothing About It.

The case of Ormos Bertalon is a sad one. The court yesterday took much pity on him. He was arraigned before Judge Smith on a charge of attempting to commit burglary, and he was a most dejected specimen of humanity. His shoulders stooped: his eyes were sunken and tearful, and his hands twitched and trembled. He was merely alive in the depths of despair. Bertalon claims to be suffering from asthma; his appearance is that of a gone consumptive. His voice is so weak that he talks scarcely above a gone consumptive. His voice is so weak that he talks scarcely above a most dejected speciance of the soulders and the man, and is making a hard light. Woever having carried a thing like that.

CALIFORNIA CURIOS.

THEY CAUSE SOME LITIGATION.

The makers of California curios at Passadena are now engaged in a little bout. Tuttle & Barnes are suing E. H. Ellis for $1000 damages alleged to be due for the violation of a certain contract, entered into in March, 1898.

At that time plaintiffs purchased from defendant, for $1200, his machingry, stock and good will in the manufacture of California curios at Passadena and ever since have been engaged in such business. As a part of the consideration of the purchase, plaintiffs allege that the defendant agreed not to engage in the business of dealing in California curios, or other articles made of wood which are usually sold therewith, within the county.

But last December Ellis could resist the temptation no longer, and he is now said to have started up another factory on the very same lines of the one he formerly owned. This is the

and what they took was worth about $300. The court found the offense burgiary in the first degree.

Last week King pleaded guilty to his part in the dark performance and was sent to Folsom for five years. But Jackson was more fortunate; he went before the court with the highest recommendations as to his honesty and integrity up to within a year or so past. He came here from Connecticut, and with him hee brought a letter from the Hartford Insurance Company that was rich with encomiums. For two years or more he worked as a waiter at the Arcadia Hotel at Santa Monica, and when he left the management kindly wrote under its official letterhead that he had its recommendation as an honest, faithful gentlevid Good words.

ful, gentlemanly employé. Good words from several other sources were his also.

But during the past year something has gone wrong; his associates have been bad. And now he has been before a bar of justice for the first time in his life. But his past record had been so good that it greatly ameliorated the fate that otherwise would have dropped down on him. He is a member of the Knights of Pythias (colored) and also of the Foresters. He has a family, and his passing to the penitentiary will leave a young wife and two small babes dependent upon the community for support. Good words from Detective Steele and Deputy Sheriff Loving also played him in good park Jackson made no statement; took his sentence with head low bowed, and was hustled disconsolately back to the County Jail.

BIG BAD BOY.

LANDED IN WHITTIER. LANDED IN WHITTIER.

Charles Kingsbury has landed himself in the reform school. He is a strapping big boy for his age, which is under 16 years, and any one would take him to be 20. He is six feet tall, and he has Goliath shoulders. He has done all his growing in the last two years—and it has made him very bad, mentally weak perhaps. His mother and his attorney testified that in habits he had become so debased that he was hardly responsible for what he did.

he was hardly responsible for what he did.

Kingsbury's offense was the embezrlement of a $4 horse, belonging to Thomas Clark, of No. 2219 East Eighth street, which he sold for $3. Mrs.
Kingsbury, a hard-working little woman, testified, in tears and tfembiling, that she was the mother of the bad boy, who was born at Compton in December, 1884. She and her husband are divorced. She loved her son, but he could not be made to mind or respect her. They live in this city.
Judge Smith heard the testimony and ordered Kingsbury—who looks like a man—committed to the Whittier Reform School during his minority.

AN UNLUCKY MAN. John H. Francisco is suing the Los Angeles Traction Company for $10,000 damages. On February 14, 1898, he fell from the top of an electric car while descending from oiling the trolley. He lays the cause of his fall on a defective siat, and wants $5000 damages. On April 11, 1899, he was injured while adjusting the motor on his car, and new asks for $1000. On December 10 he was running his car along Third street, when the trolley suddenly broke, and the tumbling piece struck his cap. discharging a large quantity of electricity in his person, to his alleged damage in $400.

EXAMINATIONS.

These examinations are open to all students of one or more of the courses. Candidates will be given three weeks in which to prepare their answers. Certificates will be granted in each course to students whose examination papers meet the approval of a committee of examiners. Mail all papers to The Home Study Circle, the Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles, Cal. Mark all papers "Examination."

Directions: Write with ink on white paper and on only one side of each sheet. The name and address of the candidate should be distinctly written at the top of each sheet of examination paper. Candidates writing upon more than one course should mail their examinations in separate packages. Mail the sheets without rolling and with as little folding as possible. See that postage is fully prepaid.

The names of successful candidates will be arranged in three groups according to order of merit, as follows:

(1) Excellent. (2) good. (3) fair.

Note—Candidates are required to answer all ten questions:

(1) Write a brief sketch of the golden age of Venetian painting, including Titlan as the central figure.

(2) For what painting is Correggio specially famous?

Mrs. Willoughby Rodman entertained at luncheon yesterday at 1 o'clock in honor of Miss Ethel Barnard of St. Joseph, Mo., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. G. Weils. The pretty home on Orchard avenue was handsomely decorated, an especially pleasing effect being carried out in the dining-room by the use of jonquils and violets. In the center of the table, which was laid with beautifully embroidered doilies, was a tall cut-glass vase filled with jonquils resting on an oval-shaped mirror. Smaller bouquets of violets were gracefully arranged on the table. Poster pletures ornamented the place cards, on the reverse side of which was a humorous verse, making an individual reference to each guess. Those present were: Mmes. Clifford Page, A. G. Wells, Lewis, C. C. Parker, A. H. Fixen, Charles William Baker, Walter Barnwell, Harry Gray, Linn Helm, William V. P. Newlin: Misses Clara Carpenter and Mary Corson.

Misses Clara Carpenter and Mary Corson.

Mrs. H. C. Veazle gave a delightfully-arranged reception yesterday afternoon at her home on Maple avenue. The decorations were especially artistic and beautiful, a different color scheme being employed in each room. The hall and drawing-room were decorated with poinsettias, red ribbons and smilax, the latter forming a frieze about the walls of the rooms and a canopy overhead; yellow and green predominated in the double parlors. The dining-room was decorated with pink carnations, smilax and ribbons, and a cozy alcove was arranged for the musicians, which was decorated with pink geraniums and ferns. Daylight was excluded, and the lights throughout were shaded with colors corresponding with the decorations. Mrs. Veazle was assisted in receiving and entertaining by Mmes. H. T. Newell, W. G. Hutchinson, James Herndon, W. F. West, Thomas S. Ewing, Misses Maude M. Newell and Lena Forrester. Following is a list of invited guests: Mmes. Daniel Innis, Sarah Pease, D. R. Collins, Willard J. In days past, bosses and bossism have pervaded both great parties and have controlled their policies to an alarming extent. But the days of the political boss are numbered. Some time ago he reached the zenith of his evil influence and is now well advanced in a period of decadesce which will speedily end, let us hope, in his entire extinction. The reaction in the public mind, which is to sweep the political boss out of quence of his inordinate lust for power and of the unscrupulous methods which ed to accomplish his evil pur poses. An aroused public opinion, born of honest abhorrence of his methods and and of hot indignation at his

MAJ. TAYLOR REJORTS CONDI-(A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—SurgeonGeneral Sternberg has received a report from Maj. Blair D. Taylor, surgeon, U. S. A., in regard to the progress of the bubonic plague in Honolulu. His report is dated at the United States military hospital, Honolulu, January 15, and says that up to that date there have been thirty-four cases of bubonic plague in the city of Honolulu with twenty-seven deaths. "The situation is very serious," said days and not returned to the town until the plague is over. This has been done.

"The Board of Health seems to be doing everything in its power and is burning Chinatown and all other infected localities, keeping the inhabitants in isolated camps. The board has a tremendous task before it, however, as the accumulation of fifth of many years is enormous, We are lucky at the hospital in being on high ground, two miles from infected points and in a thinly settled neighborhood. Camp McKinley is also well protected, being five miles from town, and completely isolated."

Maj. Taylor incloses copies of the orders issued by Maj. Mills, commanding the post for the isolation and quarantine of the detachment of men recently on guard in the city of Honolulu, and for the general protection of the garrison from possible infection. Soldiers are not allowed to leave the camp under any pretense.

SUSAN B.'S SUCCESSOR.

MRS. LILLIE D. BLAKE AN-

(A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Lillie

Devereaux Blake has announced her candidacy for the presidency of the National Woman's Suffrage Associaion, whose convention will meet on hursday at Washington. There have deen only two elections in the associa-ion since it was founded in 1869, the election of Elizabeth Cady Stanton as he first president, and the indorsement of Miss Anthony, who had been acting as president for a long time, and was chosen without any opposition.

At this year's convention in Washington, however, there will be, it is said, a number of differences of opinion. Factional lines may be drawn on lines of policy. Some of the leaders in the suffrage movement are not strongly in favor of agitation for legislative works. They believe that a speech-making propagands should be carried on and no pressure brought to bear upon legislators to pass womansuffrage measures just at present.

On the other hand there are those who are in favor of emphasising the legislative work, and Mrs. Blake is one of them. Mrs. Blake's name has not heretofore been brought forth prominently for the presidency, because she has not been making a canvass for the position. Within the last few days, however, a number of the leaders from this State and some from other parts of the country who have been in this city have started a movement for her, and it is very probable that almost the entire new York delegation, which is the largest in the convention, and a large number of delegates from the West will favor her.

ROCKEFELLER IS TIRED. NTI-TRUST AGITATION CAUSES

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—A special to the Chicago Record from Cleveland, says that John D. Rockefeller is no longer president of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio. This is the parent company of all the widespread standard interests. all the widespread standard interests.
Mr. Rockefeller resigned last December, but the facts were kept secret until now. Vice-President McGregor of New York has been elected president, and Secretary Squire of this city vice-president.
Mr. Rockefeller, it is said, has been subjected to so many examinations.

Mr. Rockereler, it is said, nas been subjected to so many examinations in the various legal proceedings against the company under the anti-trust legislation that he found the presidency irksome, and hence his resignation. Frank Rockefeller, brother to John D., has resigned the second vice-presidency.

DEFENSE RESTS ITS CASE UPON PROSECUTION'S EVIDENCE.

IA. P. DAY REPORT. NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—"We rest upon the case made by the prosecution," was the surprising announcement made at ginning of the day's proceedings by the chief counsel for the defendant on the case of Roland B. Molineux harged with having caused the murde Mrs. Katherine J. Adams by poiof Mrs. Katherine J. Adams by poisoned bromo-seltzer, which he is alleged to have sent through the mail to Harry S. Cornish.

For the second time since the beginning of the trial of Molineux, his wife and mother were in court today when the proceedings began. When the prisoner was brought into the courtroom he walked hurriedly to his seat, greeting the ladies affectionately.

After motions by counsel on both sides regarding portions of the mony they wished to exclude, Mr. Weeks began summing up.

SUSPECT IS A BAD MAN. ATRICK CROWE IDENTIFIED AS A TRAIN ROBBI [A. P. DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.-Patrick Crowe, rrested here yesterday on suspicion eing connected with the sensation obbery of the Northwestern Fast Mai train at Tower "W," forty-six miles west of here, October 13, was today identified as one of the quartette which secured booty from the train variously nated at from $25,000 to $100,000. The identification was made by James W. White, engineer of the train which was robbed, Charles James, operator at the tower, and the express messenger in charge of the money which was stolen. Crowe was then turned over to Sheriff Dimmick, of Kane county.

CHILD FATALLY BURNED.

LITTLE ONE WENT TOO NEAR A

McBarron, who lives about three miles south of the city on the extension of Western avenue, was probably fatally burned vesterday afternoon while playing about a bonfire started by some older children. A number of children were playing about the place, their game being hideand-seck, about a large hay rick in the barnyard. Tiring of this game, some of the children suggested a bon-fire. A large pile of dry brush was se-cured and piled not far from the hay. "The situation is very serious," said Surgeon Taylor, "as the disease has broken out in several isolated places outside of the originally infected district. One soldier of the Hawaian National Guard is dead from the disease, and a white woman from one of the stores in the principal district is now very ill. In view of the fact that the detachment of nineteen men of the Sixth Artillery in town were not the Sixth Artillery in town were necessarily living with and intimately associated with the National Guard I have recommended verbally to the commanding officer that these troops by removed to Camp McKinley and placed in an isolated camp for seven days and not returned to the town until the plague is over. This has been done.

GASOLINE EXPLOSION.

ONE VICTIM BELIEVED TO BE FA-TALLY INJURED. A new patent gasoline pump, upon which experiments were being made, exploded at 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon, burning one man so that he is not expected to recover, and pain-fully blistering two others. George T. Carter and A. L. Reynolds of Santa Ana, owners of the pump, of Santa Ana, owners of the pump, were working on it at the machine shop of A. A. and C. F. Axelson, No. 1101 North Main street.

The apparatus containing the gasoline exploded and the greater part of the blasing oil flew on Carter, burning him severely from the top of his head down to the abdomen, before the flames could be extinguished by the other workmen in the chop. Some of the burning liquid also flew on Carter's partner, Reynolds, and C. F. Axelson. The latter received painful burns on his right wrist and the right side of his face and neck, while the hair on the right eide of his head was alightly einged. Reynolds received side of his face and neck, while the hair on the right side of his head was slightly singed. Reynolds received burns on his neck and right hand. During the excitement a fire alarm was turned in from box 28, but the blazing oil was extinguished before the arrival of the engines. Mr. Axelson's burns were dressed at the machine shop, but the patrol wagon was summoned to remove Carter and Reynolds to the Receiving Hospital, where they were attended by Police Surgeon Hagan.

Reynolds's injuries were soon dressed, and after giving Carter temporary treatment Dr. Hagan had him removed to the Good Samaritan. Hospital. His eyes escaped the blazing fluid, but his hands and body were terribly burned, and at a late hour last night he was in a critical condition. While his injuries are considered as necessarily fatal, it was stated last night that he might linger for some time. His family at Santa Ana was notified and his wife, will arrive at his bedside this morning.

Address The Times, Los Angeles, Call ceeded to perform the duties assigned to him, and was about to engage the services of a competent person to per-form the work, when the information came to him that the remainder of the board had held a little secret caucus respondence.] Clive Brown of the U. sand had decided to throw the work to another person. Nothing further was done at the time, and, when, at the meeting of the trustees Monday evenboard had held a little secret caucus another person. Nothing further was done at the time, and, when, at the meeting of the trustees Monday evening, the report of the various committees was asked for, Grouard answered rather gruffly, when the report of his committee was asked for, that the committee was asked for, that the committee had no report to make and he desired that the committee be discharged at once. This was done and immediately after Ransom Reid was mominated and elected as the special officer to detect the misuse of water by the consumers—the position that had been turned over to Mr. Grouard to have filled. The appointment of Reid to this position left a vacancy at the city waterworks, and Grouard desired to give this place to the party with whom he had arranged for the other place, but the other members of the board apparently took the bit in their teeth, so to speak, and appointed Jack Phillips te fill the vacancy.

At this Trustee Grouard turned his batteries in the direction of the other members of the board and opened up a lively fusilade. In a few minutes, however, the cloud of smoke raised, when the trustee from the Fifth Ward proceeded to inform the remainder of the board that he was a dealing in kindergarten goods, his mind would soon be disabused of that lidea. He plainly and pointedly in manner which the other members could not fail to understand.

Peace once more declared, the board got into its working gear and ground out an unusual amount of business, the greater portion of which tends toward the improvement of the city. The City Engineer was instructed to establish a new grade on Seventeenth street to that extensive improvements may be made on that thoroughfare, a large amount of cament sidewalk was ordered down at once, the petition of residents on East Fourth street to plant a certain kind of tree on each side of the street, from French street to the Southern Pacific depot was granted, as was also the petition of other residents for the construction of a bridge across Santiago Creek on Hanna street and the City Attorn meeting of the trustees Monday even-isual amount of business and of a character that should sreat benefit to the city.

VESSELS SUFFERED UP NORTH.

SAN PEDRO, Feb. 6.—[Regular Correspondence.] A number of the vessels which have recently arrived from the north at this port have suffered from stress of weather off the Oregon coast. While calms have prevailed in this region, tempestuous seas have raged up Puget Sound way. The American bark, Abbie Palmer, Capt. Ulberg, dropped anchor. off Dead Man's Island Monday. She had aboard James D. Carnegle, a seaman, with both legs broken below the knees, and a third of her deck load was missing. The Palmer REDLANDS. gle, a seaman, with both legs broken below the knees, and a third of her deck load was missing. The Palmer was on her way from Tacoma to Adewas on her way from Tacoma to Ade-laide, Australia, with a cargo of 1,600,-000 feet of, lumber. On January 22, in the evening, when off the mouth of the columbia River, with a southeast gale blowing, two heavy seas were shipped, and the deck load broke loose. Carnegie was knocked down, and a lot of lumber fell on him. When he was released it was found that both bones of his legs were broken, and that he had lumber fell on him. When he was released it was found that both bones of his legs were broken, and that he had suffered internal injuries. The storm lasted only about two hours. The cabin boy was a Japanese who had formerly had considerable experience in serving with a physician, and had ploked up a fair knowledge of bone setting. The captain and the Japanese boy set the broken legs and did it so well as to receive compliments from the surgeons who examined the limbs after the Palmer's arrival at this port. A box suitable for the afflicted seaman to lie in was constructed, and after the legs were bound Carnegie was laid in it. Fearing that the heat of the tropics would work against Carnegie's recovery, Capt. Ulberg changed his course and set in for San Fedro, which port was made after fourteen days salling. The box with Carnegie lying in it was lowered into a launch and brought into port. Carnegie is at the Marine Hospital, and is still occupying the box. He has a wife in London. The bark Abble Palmer was formerly the Blairmore, of British registry. She "turned turtle" in San Francisco Bay four years ago, and a number of the sailors were drowned.

The bark Tidal Wave, Capt. R. Kalb, which arrived at this port Monday, weathered a perilous storm on January 22 and 23, about sixty miles off the Oregon coast. The bark, which is an old vessel, had a cargo of lumber. A southeast gale worked up a fierce sea. and while the waves were still running heavily, the wind shifted to westward, and produced a topping sea, which tossed the vessel fearfully. The waves broke over the deck load and left so much water over the deck that a fire could not be started to run the donkey engine. The pumps were manned, but the leaks, which had evidently been opened by the severe strains to which the vessel hand been subjected, kept gaining, till after twenty-four hours of wearisome hand labor there was seven feet of water in the hull and a heavy list to bort. About 60,000 or 70,000 feet of the deckload of lumber was then thrown overboard, m

POLICEMAN DETAILED TO STOP THE PRACTICE.

POLICEMAN DETAILED TO STOP THE PRACTICE.

So many reports of minor accidents to pedestrians caused by collisions with persons riding bicycles on sidewalks have been received at the Police Station during the past three weeks that Chief Elion has decided to put a stop to the practice if possible. He has therefore detailed a policeman in citizens' clothing to patrol the partion of the city in which most of the accidents have happened.

Patrolman Broadhead has been assigned to this duty, and he reported yesterday that most of the offenders are school children, many of whom do not know that it is contrary to law to ride their wheels on the sidewalks. Instead of arresting such children as he has caught violating the law in this manner the officer has warned them. Chief Eliton said last night that while he did not desire to arrest mere children, unles the parents of the children caused them to stop riding on sidewalks he would be compelled to resort to harsher methods of stopping the practice than merely warning the offenders.
